Pipers Prayer News

March 2019

In February we took a break from the streets to concentrate on shaping our Community intervention policies and processes to ensure we have greater and more lasting impact. We are convinced that none of our work of itself can bring about the change we believe is necessary in the inner cities and across Jamaica. So, whilst we await the move of the Holy Spirit on peoples' hearts, we continue in obedience in what we believe God has called us to do in Jamaica.

Ramesh and his team, standing with some of the widows and orphans and handing out clothing to one orphan

We were pleased to have reports from Ramesh in India about his work and how the small personal donation we made in February was able to bring joy and celebrations to a small group of widows and orphans. Ramesh made much of the help we gave making a banner and giving us a full report of his travels from North India for the Love Feast that took place in Nepal. As well as working with the poor in India, Ramesh and his small team travel miles to cross the border of India into Nepal to minister to widows and orphans, educating them about their human rights and to bring some relief to their social and economic circumstances.

In expressing thanks Ramesh said: My Dear Sister Nadine and Sir Tony Piper We are very much thankful to you for your kind and generous support for our ministry. And today we are able to distribute 12 children with warm T shirts. And 12 Widow including old age person got the Blankets. And almost 30 people join in the love feast. We as team very much grateful to you and your family for supporting us financially and great prayer support to do the ministry. Yet there are many people who are yet to get help through our ministry. In helping to support the poorest and most marginalised, Ramesh needs consistent financial help and support. Please join us to help Ramesh in India.

During the community recess in Feb, Tony has started a new part of his work – blog writing. Visiting the communities brings the opportunity to engage with some of the issues prevalent in Jamaica such as the fatal loss of family members often through gun crime. Tony's recent visit to one community member who lost her 16 year old son under such circumstance gave rise to the first series of blogs called "Advocate For the Needy". An extract from the first blog reads:

In Kingston this week there is an empty single bed. In a humble home, in one of our many under-resourced communities, there is a mother who no longer has to wash the bed clothes because her son no longer sleeps there. This is a mother whose existence has been traumatically and irrevocably shattered. A mother whose heart feels a loss that nothing can ever replace. This mother has joined the ranks of so many mothers (and fathers) who have lost a son to gun violence. Please donate to OSJ (UK) bank account sort code 20 08 64 acc no. 20625175 to support our work in Jamaica and mission support to India. Email nadine@operationsaveja@gmail.com
